Home and energy

Many families are struggling with heating their homes, increasing energy bills and keeping themselves and their family healthy. On this page you will find help, advice and support available to you for these issues and more. For helpful contacts and other support options go to page 20.

Whether you live in a privately owned or rented home, there are a variety of options available to you if you need help - from the Government, energy suppliers, local councils and many more.

- ⇒ Your local Home Improvement Agency: Community First New Forest 0800 849 1216 Help they provide may include suggesting and organising improvements to help with energy efficiency; advising on any funding sources (national and local) that may be available to you; and helping you fill in application forms for this support. ^(1.)
- ⇒ The Home Heat Helpline advises people worried about paying their energy bills and keeping warm during the winter. It also gives advice to low-income households in urgent need of heating help and advice. It is free to call and is open 9am-5pm Monday to Fridays. 0800 33 66 99 visit www.homeheathelpline.org.uk
- ⇒ If you are struggling to pay your energy bills, you may worry that your energy supply will be cut off. This is always a last resort for your energy company so it is important you talk to them straight away and try to work out a solution. Some energy companies have set up charitable trusts to help customers pay for fuel arrears. You can find out more by contacting your energy supplier directly. ^(2.)
- ⇒ The Home Energy Check helps you to plan energy-saving improvements for your home. Take the Home Energy Check now at www.energysavingtrust.org.uk ^(3.)

Top Tips

- Turn off the tap when brushing your teeth.
- Are you running the tap for hot water? Fill up empty bottles while you wait for it to heat up and use them around the house—for the kettle or plants.
- Defrost your fridge regularly - the more ice, the more electricity it uses. A fridge is most efficient when it is three quarters full.
- Dry washing outside when and if you can.
- Don't leave your TV on standby; it is costing you money.
- Run the washing machine with full loads and keep temperatures low.
- Switch lights off in empty rooms.
- A microwave uses 70% - 90% less electricity than an electric oven.
- New Forest residents who have a query or question about home energy can email its resident experts on: enquiries@environmentcentre.com.

Childcare

Everyone seems to be talking about the cost of childcare these days. Fortunately there are lots of childcare options out there to suit you, your child and your budget. Better still, there's more financial help available than you might imagine. ⁽¹⁾ For helpful contacts and other support options go to page 20.

If you are working or going back to work, and you have children, you can get financial and practical help with childcare. ⁽²⁾

Early Years Education Entitlement (EYE) – Free up to 15 hours each week for all 3 & 4 year olds. All 3 & 4 year old children in England are entitled to 570 hours free early year's education over the year. This entitlement can be taken from the term after the child's third birthday. In Hampshire childcare settings the 'Standard Offer' for this EYE funding is for up to 15 hours to be taken over 38 weeks per year, however some childcare providers also offer families options to take the EYE entitlement over more weeks over the year but taking fewer hours each week as a 'Stretched Offer'. For more information visit www.hants.gov.uk/eye

Early Years Pupil Premium (EYPP) for 3 & 4 year old children receiving early years education

Funding available to early years education providers for children whose families are eligible. The additional funding is used to provide extra support to children for learning and development. For more information visit www.hants.gov.uk/eye

Early Years Education Entitlement (EYE) for 2 year old children

There is also free EYE funding available for some 2 year olds. Eligibility for this funding is based on families meeting the following criteria.

Children whose parents/guardians are in receipt of one or more of the following benefits:

- Income Support
- Income based Job Seekers Allowance
- Income-related Employment and Support Allowance
- Support under Part VI of the Immigration and Asylum Act 1999
- The Guaranteed element of State Pension Credit
- Child Tax Credit provided you are not also entitled to Working Tax Credit, and have an annual gross household income of no more than £16,190 as assessed by Her Majesty's Revenue and Customs

Children looked after by the Local Authority:

- Child in Care
- Child Leaving Care in Special Guardianship, adoption or residence order

Child with Special Educational Needs and / or Disability as defined by:

- Children in receipt of Disability Living Allowance (DLA)
 - Child with a Statement of Special Educational Needs
 - Child with an Education, Health and Care Plan (EHC Plan)
- For more information follow the following link or talk to staff at your local Children's Centre
For further details visit www.hants.gov.uk/2-year-old-offer-2.htm#criteria

Early Years Education funded places are provided by the following range of providers who are registered with Ofsted or Independent Schools Inspectorate and have agreed to provide inclusive services that meet the local authority terms and conditions.

- Childminders
- Day Nurseries
- Pre-school playgroups
- Nursery classes
- Nursery classes in Independent Schools

The Family Information Directory provides information for parents and practitioners on childcare in their local community, such as childminders, pre-schools, nurseries, before and after school clubs, and holiday play schemes. Visit www.fid.hants.gov.uk/ChildCare

You could get extra tax credits to help pay for some of your childcare costs while you are working. Contact the Tax Credit helpline 0345 300 3900 or visit www.gov.uk/topic/benefits-credits/tax-credits for further details. ⁽³⁾

Top Tips

- It is important to consider your childcare needs to decide what service will be best to provide for you. Some provision can offer flexible services which may be important to you with options on early starts and late finishes, other providers may offer other services such as forest school sessions or options to purchase hot meals. It is recommended to book up places with a childcare provider early to secure your child's place as many can get fully booked for the next year.
- With nurseries, timing is crucial. The best nurseries will get booked up as much as a year in advance so make sure that you don't leave it until the last minute.
- If you are not sure what childcare options there are, the Hampshire Childcare and Family Information service can help, please use the following link or phone 0300 555 1384
- The Money Advice Service website has a great Cost of Childcare Calculator to estimate how much you might have to spend on childcare.
- You don't need to be on a low income to get help. Financial and practical assistance with childcare is available from many employers and from the state, but only for registered childcare.
- Funding may be available for children looked after by the local authority and those with additional needs and/or disabilities (visit www.hants.gov.uk)

Parenting Support

Being a parent is one of the most important jobs there is—it is also one of the hardest. The hours are long, there is no pay and not a lot of gratitude. Little attention is paid to getting people ready for this important role, yet parents are the key to giving children a happy and stable childhood. ^(1.)

It is so important for parents to be equipped for what's ahead with the information, advice and skills they need to be great parents. Below you will find a variety of support tools available to help with any parenting queries.

- ⇒ Family Lives is a charity with over three decades of experience helping parents to deal with the changes that are a constant part of family life. It provides a variety of support through its helpline and extensive advice on its website. Visit www.familylives.org.uk to view the great support and advice available or ring the helpline on 0808 800 2222. ^(2.)
- ⇒ Youth and Families Matter provides a variety of parenting courses for parents of children aged 0-16 years, a befriending scheme offering practical and emotional support to those in need, a Basics Bank offering practical support to those in need through the provision of non-perishable food, work with vulnerable teenagers, especially via its detached youth work project 'streetwise'. It also provides support for young people in school through 1 to 1 and group work and after school drop-ins. ^(3.) Call 023 8086 0320 or visit www.youthandfamiliesmatter.org.uk. Info@youthandfamiliesmatter.org.uk
- ⇒ Families Matter supports families on the Waterside. It provides support to families through 'OTRT', a schools programme supporting children transitioning from primary to senior schools, parents with children with special needs, one-to-one support and much more.
- ⇒ Home-Start New Forest is a local charity which supports families in and around the New Forest area who are experiencing difficulties. Home-Start New Forest recruits and trains local volunteers and carefully matches a volunteer to visit a family in their own home for a couple of hours a week. The scheme has two staff who work closely with a network of around fifteen trained volunteers who carry out home-visiting and/or group support to families. For more information call 023 8089 9995 or visit www.homestartnewforest.co.uk ^(4.)
- ⇒ The Family Information Directory provides a family service search for those looking for parenting courses, parent and toddler groups, counselling, leisure activities, advice and support. ^(5.) Visit www.hants.gov.uk/familyinformationdirectory ^(6.)

Top Tips

- Accept help from relatives and friends willing to lend a hand from time out, babysitting to school runs.
- Encourage older children/teens to help out around the house with chores on a regular basis.
- Try to organise and plan as much as you can in advance for things like school bags and uniforms.
- It may help to empower yourself by learning new skills that could assist you in your day to day life.
- Quality family time is important but can be expensive. Take advantage of as many free family activities as possible.
- It's not selfish to treat yourself once in a while. It's important that parents ensure they have some 'me' time too, even if it's just 10 minutes.
- More than anything children just want to spend time with their parents. It can be lots of fun to make time for spur of the moment activities—like a board game or trip to the park.

Housing needs

Housing issues will always arise and therefore you need to know your rights and responsibilities. There is a variety of information available about how to go about renting or buying a home, just finding somewhere to live or advice on handling problems with your landlord and help to avoid losing your home.

Help is available on a wide range of housing related matters including advice, information and responsibilities on repairs and maintenance. Whether you own or rent there is a range of support available to all.

⇒ New Forest District Council: Repairs and Maintenance.
Repairs. The rent you pay each week covers repairs to your home. However, it is your responsibility to organise and pay for any repairs that are due to damage or neglect by you, your family, visitors or pets. If you are unsure whose responsibility the repair is, see the New Forest District Council website www.newforest.gov.uk.
Emergency out of hours repairs:

- Total failure of electric, heating, hot water.
- Burst pipes.
- Any major fault that may cause danger to health, life or safety of the building.

If you need to report an emergency out of hours repair call
08444 152 211

Maintenance:

The planned maintenance team deal with modernisation and improvement works and also cover specialist areas such as structural problems, asbestos, etc. ^(1.)

⇒ New Forest and Test Valley Home Improvement Agencies provide support to older people, people with disabilities and those on low incomes with improvements or adaptations to their homes. They provide a free and confidential service including:

- Identifying improvements and adaptations needed.
- Exploring options for funding such as grants and loans .
- Giving help with completing forms.
- Linking you to other agencies and support services.
- And many more.

For more information see the Community First New Forest website:
www.cfnf.org.uk or call 0800 8491 216. ^(2.)

Top Tips

- Rent increases - a landlord MUST follow a set procedure if they want a tenant to pay more rent.
- Mortgages - there are various options available which can prevent someone from losing their home, even if court proceedings have already begun.
- Key safes can be fitted outside a property so you can store keys that can be used by care staff, family and friends who visit regularly.
- Disabled Facilities Grants may be available to help towards the cost of essential adaptations to your home to enable you to continue to live there.
- Test your smoke alarm once a week by pressing the test button and holding it until the alarm sounds.
- Don't plug too many appliances into one socket.
- Always fit the correct fuse for the appliance: Up to 700 watts - 3 amp, 700-1,000 watts - 5 amp, over 1,000 watts - 13 amp.
- For your own personal safety and peace of mind, ask any caller for proof of their identity. They must carry ID cards.

Domestic Violence

One in four women and one in six men in the UK will be a victim of domestic violence during their lifetime, according to research estimates. Domestic violence is described as “any incident of threatening behavior, violence or abuse between adults who are or have been in a relationship together, or between family members, regardless of gender or sexuality.” (1.)

Domestic violence and abuse can happen to anyone, yet the problem is often overlooked, excused or denied. This is especially true when the abuse is psychological, rather than physical. If you or someone you know, needs help, reach out. There is support available.

- ⇒ For help and support, call 0808 2000 247, for the free 24-hour National Domestic Violence Helpline.
- ⇒ The Survivor’s Handbook from the charity Woman’s Aid is free and provides information on a wide range of issues such as housing, money, helping your children and your legal rights. The handbook is available to download in 11 languages. www.womensaid.org.uk (2.) 0808 2000 247
- ⇒ The Hampshire Domestic Abuse Forum brings together a range of agencies in Hampshire who work with and provide services and support to women, men and families experiencing domestic violence and abuse. <http://hampshiredomesticabuse.org.uk> The website enables you to search for your local service as well as providing a range of information, support and further contact details. (3.)
- ⇒ Southern Domestic Abuse Service (SDAS) provides services to people who have experienced or who are experiencing emotional, physical or sexual abuse in their relationships. SDAS runs refuges offering support and temporary accommodation to women and children who are escaping domestic violence and information and advice to those who have escaped but still need support. www.southerndas.org (4.)

Top Tips

- Don’t wait for an emergency situation to seek help.
- Talk to your doctor, health visitor or midwife.
- Any woman who is the victim of abuse can enter a refuge with her children.
- If you are in immediate danger, don’t worry about what to take with you; just leave.
- Cover Your Tracks - help on how to clear your internet history after finding support online. www.womensaid.org.uk/
- It is still abuse if the incidents of physical abuse seem minor when compared to those you have read about, seen on television or heard other women talk about. There isn’t a ‘better’ or ‘worse’ form of physical abuse.
- Rather than acting out in a mindless rage, many physically violent abusers carefully aim their kicks and punches where the bruises and marks won’t show.

Stop smoking

Stopping smoking is the single biggest thing you can do to improve your health, but it's a difficult task. Smokers who are trying to kick their habit may be disappointed to find there's no single quit method that guarantees success. The weight of evidence suggests that smokers should set a date to stop, take advantage of all the help on offer, and do their best to quit completely from this point. ^(1.)

Want to stop smoking? Find out practical, quick and simple steps you can take now to quit successfully. Quit smoking and you'll be healthier and your skin will look better. Some small changes to your lifestyle may help you resist the temptation to light up.

- ⇒ There is a free local NHS Stop Smoking Service near you. Studies show that you're four times more likely to quit with NHS help. Developed by experts and ex-smokers and delivered by professionals, your local NHS Stop Smoking Service provides expert advice, support and encouragement to help you stop smoking for good. Free one-to-one support along with stop smoking medicines are available for the cost of a prescription. For your free quit-kit and to find your local service visit www.quitnow.smokefree.nhs.uk. ^(1.)
- ⇒ Quit4Life, the Hampshire NHS Stop Smoking Service is committed to helping the people of Hampshire to quit smoking and will support you through every step of quitting, from day one. And, what's more, their service is FREE. Statistics show that you are four times more likely to quit smoking with support, and Quit4Life is focused on giving you every possible chance of success. Visit www.quit4life.nhs.uk for information on the support they offer, text Quit to 60123 or call 0845 602 4663.
- ⇒ Quit smoking using your mobile phone. If you have an iPhone or iPod touch you can download the free NHS Quit Smoking app from iTunes App store. The NHS Quit Smoking app makes it easier to stop.
 - Provides daily support and instant tips.
 - Keeps track of how much money you're saving.
 - Shows how many days you've been smokefree.
 - Includes a direct line to the NHS Stop Smoking helpline.
 - Provides links to local NHS Stop Smoking Services.

Top Tips

- Think positive - you might have given up before, but tell yourself that you're really going to do it this time.
- Make a plan - make a promise, set a date and stick to it.
- Change your diet - is your after-dinner cigarette your favourite? A US study revealed that some foods, including meat, make cigarettes more satisfying. Others, including cheese, fruit and vegetables, make cigarettes less satisfying.
- Identify when you crave cigarettes - a craving can last five minutes. Before you give up, make a list of five-minute strategies.
- Keep your hands busy - Nicotine replacement therapy (NRT) can make you twice as likely to succeed. If you like holding a cigarette, use an inhalator.
- Make a list of reasons to quit and read it when you need support.
- Get help - don't do it alone. There is plenty of support available for those wanting to quit.

Alcohol/substance misuse

Drug and alcohol misuse is a complex issue. While the number of people with a serious problem is relatively small, someone's substance misuse and dependency affects everybody around them. Both drugs and alcohol can affect people's mental health, physical health, financial wellbeing and their relationships. If you or someone you know has a drug or alcohol problem, there is local help available.

Cutting down your drinking is often just the beginning and most people will need some degree of help to stay alcohol-free in the long term. Getting support – beyond family, friends or carers – is crucial to understanding and overcoming the issues that make you drink. Ask your GP or alcohol support group about one-to-one counselling or group support in your area. ⁽¹⁾

- ⇒ Alcohol Unit Calculator—It can be hard to tell how many units are in different types of alcoholic drink. Visit <http://www.nhs.uk/change4life/Pages/understanding-alcohol.aspx> to use the unit calculator to find out how many units there are in a single drink or in a number of drinks.
- ⇒ Drinks Diary - With so many different drinks and glass sizes, from shots to pints – not to mention bottles – it's easy to get confused about how many units are in your drink. You can download a drinks diary from www.nhs.uk/Livewell/alcohol/Documents/drink_diary.pdf. Fill out the diary using the basic alcohol units found in the diary. ⁽¹⁾
- ⇒ Legal highs carry serious health risks. The chemicals they contain have in most cases never been used in drugs for human consumption before, so haven't been tested to show that they are safe. Users can never be certain what they are taking and what the effects might be.
 - To find out more about specific drugs go to the A-Z of Drugs on the FRANK website talktofrank.com
 - For confidential advice about all aspects of drugs and drug use, call the FRANK helpline on 0300 123 6600 ⁽³⁾
- ⇒ You can use the service search on the NHS Choices website to find your nearest NHS drug addiction support services. www.nhs.uk/Livewell/drugs/Pages/Drugtreatment.aspx
- ⇒ Hampshire Drug and Alcohol Action Team (DAAT) The DAAT Support Team is responsible for commissioning and coordinating high quality substance misuse services across Hampshire. The team achieves this by working in partnership with all those concerned in reducing the harm caused by substance misuse to individuals, their families and communities. If you are concerned about your drug use and would like some support please contact the Hampshire Drug & Alcohol Recovery Service on 0300 124 0103 inclusionhants@sssft.nhs.uk ⁽⁴⁾

Top Tips

- Men should not regularly drink more than 3 to 4 units of alcohol a day.
- Women should not regularly drink more than 2 to 3 units of alcohol a day.
- If you are pregnant and choose to drink, do not drink more than 1-2 units of alcohol once or twice a week, and do not get drunk.
- Know what you're buying—a really good way of cutting down if you're a wine drinker is to buy small (125ml) glasses for the house rather than the large (250ml) ones.
- Be patient with yourself. It usually takes at least three months before significant improvement occurs, so don't give up.
- Avoid relying on someone to stop doing drugs with you, as he or she may not have the willingness to change.
- Find a group in your local area such as Narcotics Anonymous or SMART Recovery. It will help you deal with the issues that come up when stopping drugs.

Diet and nutrition

When it comes to a healthy diet, balance is the key to getting it right. This means eating a wide variety of foods in the right proportions and consuming the right amount of food and drink to achieve and maintain a healthy body weight. Despite what you see in some diet books and TV programmes, healthy eating can be really straightforward. A healthy diet contains food from the four major food groups, to give us the energy and nutrients we need.

Eating a healthy, balanced diet is an important part of maintaining good health, and can help you feel your best. It doesn't have to be difficult either. The average man needs around 2,500 calories a day and the average woman needs 2,000 calories a day. The average calories for a child varies from 1500 - 2000 depending on their age and gender. (2.)

- ⇒ To help you get the right balance of the five main food groups take a look at the Eatwell Plate on page 12. To maintain a healthy diet, the eatwell plate shows you how much of what you eat should come from each food group. (3.)
- ⇒ 5 A DAY meal planner - create a weekly 5 A DAY meal planner and shopping list in five simple steps. It makes healthy eating simple, with ideas for meals, tasty recipes, cheaper options and top tips. Visit www.nhs.uk/Tools/Pages/5aday.aspx.
- ⇒ BMI healthy weight calculator - check your BMI and get tailored advice. Find out if you or your child are a healthy weight, understand how BMI is calculated and get practical weight loss information. Visit www.nhs.uk/Tools/Pages/Healthyweightcalculator.aspx.
- ⇒ Keeping fit and having a healthy lifestyle is very important, but finding an activity to enjoy and getting motivated can be difficult. New Forest District Council has five health and leisure centres across the district so there is plenty of choice if you want to visit a gym or take part in a fitness activity. Top Tips

- Good foods in; bad foods out. If you stock your cupboards and fridge with nutritious foods and toss out the junk, then your whole family will be eating the same healthy foods. Shop for fat-free or reduced-fat dairy and lean protein sources (skinless poultry, fish, turkey sausage and bacon), and have freshly washed vegetables and fruit available at all times.
- Eat dinner as a family — and slim down favorite meals. Sitting down to regular meals as a family is a great way to connect with one another and offers the opportunity to instill proper eating habits in your children at an early age. Family dinners are the best occasions for kids to explore new foods.
- Minimise snacking. Constant snacking throughout the day can set kids up for weight gain and leave them uninterested in eating when it's time to sit down for lunch or dinner. If they're less hungry, they'll be less willing to try new foods — like vegetables!
- Make the TV room a no eating zone. Excessive TV watching leads to inactivity and mindless munching. So make the TV room a "no-eating zone," and get the television sets out of your kids' bedrooms. (1.)

Health and Wellbeing

Love Food Hate Waste

The Waste and Resources Action Programme WRAP, recently conducted the largest ever survey into food and drink waste in the UK. The survey found that UK households throw away over 7 million tonnes of food every year - over 4 million tonnes of which is still edible! This waste costs the average family around £60 a month. Not only is this bad news for our budget, but it's harmful to the environment too. As well as the food itself, the energy, water and resources that have gone into producing, manufacturing and transporting the food is equal to releasing 20 million tonnes of CO2 every year.

The good news is there is a lot we can do to help cut down food waste and save money! The survey found there are two main reasons we waste food- we have prepared or cooked too much, or we have not used the food in time, so WRAP has launched the Love Food, Hate Waste campaign, to help householders recognise and tackle the issue – with 5 easy tips to help us save money and waste less!

- ⇒ It Pays To Plan: Planning meals is an effective way of saving on food bills. Knowing what's in the fridge/freezer and store cupboard before you shop can help us avoid buying too much, and cuts down those last minute dashes to the supermarket. Check the family calendar for who's in and who's out to avoid cooking too much!
- ⇒ Know your Labels: Make sure you know the difference between food date labels. 'Use by' is a safety date on foodstuffs like fresh fish, meat and cheeses, but remember you can still freeze some of these items right up until the 'use by' date, or cook them and freeze them to heat up and eat later. Lots of food is still edible when it has reached the 'best before' date which refers to quality, rather than safety, but colour or texture may be less than perfect.
- ⇒ Savvy Storage: Storing food properly can make it last days or even weeks longer! The packaging on many fruits and vegetables has been especially designed to allow it to 'breathe' and make it last longer. Keep the wrapping on items like tomatoes, sliced meat and cucumber until you're ready to eat them. Keep your cupboard stocked with staple items like tinned beans, nuts, pasta, rice and dried fruit- they all have a long shelf life and mean you'll have the ingredients you need to jazz up some leftovers for a last minute meal! Check out the Store Cupboard Essentials on the Love Food Hate Waste website www.lovefoodhatewaste.com.
- ⇒ Perfect Portions: Avoid wasting up to a plate worth of food every day by taking the guesswork out of portion sizes! If you don't have kitchen scales, invest in a measured portion scoop for items like rice and pasta, or use a cup or mug, tablespoon or even a 'handful'. A mug full of uncooked rice is on average enough to serve 4 adults. An average child portion of dried fruit, rice or beans is 2 ½ tablespoons- pop one in the kids cereal box and cut down the cereal going in the bin each morning by up to half! Use the Portion Calculator on the Love Food hate Waste website to help you.
- ⇒ Love Your Leftovers: leftover food doesn't have to be second best if you use some the great tips and recipes on the Love Food Hate Waste website. Most leftovers can last 24-72 hours in the fridge if cooled first, and kept covered in the bottom of the fridge. For example, leftover meat like chicken or bacon, or even flaky fish can be mixed with some mayonnaise for great sandwich fillings! Use up yogurts in smoothies or as a topping on cereal.

Top Tips

- Keep a pad by the fridge to jot down items as they're used up.
- Check items in the fridge regularly for 'use by' dates and bring items close to expiry –like yoghurts, to the front, so they are eaten in time.
- Buying larger quantities of meat or fish can be more economical— make it last longer by dividing into smaller portions and freezing.
- The optimum temperature for your fridge is 5 degrees or below. Invest in a fridge thermometer— your dairy products could stay fresh up to 3 days longer!
- If you've cooked too much, bag up the excess and pop it in the freezer for a quick lunch or last minute meal.
- Avoid overcrowding your fridge, air needs to circulate to keep it cool.

Skills, Development and Employment

Moving into work

If you're out of work, whether voluntarily or through redundancy, it can take time to find another job, regardless of your age. However, your years of experience in the workplace is highly valuable and you can use your knowledge and skills to find employment. Jobcentre Plus provides help and advice on jobs and training for people who can work. (1.)

Jobcentre Plus runs several schemes to help people claiming benefits return to work. If you are claiming Jobseeker's Allowance or Employment and Support Allowance, in the work-related activity group, you may be required to join some of the compulsory schemes; and your benefit will be stopped or reduced if you do not take part. This is called a sanction. (2.)

⇒ Work Programme. This provides support, work experience and training for up to 2 years to help people find and stay in work. You might have to join the Work Programme if:

- you've been getting Jobseeker's Allowance for more than 3 months
- you get Employment and Support Allowance and you're in the Work-Related Activity Group.

Jobcentre Plus will write and ask you to attend an interview. The interview will help you plan, prepare and find work. (3.)

⇒ A work trial gives you the chance to try out a job and keep getting benefits. It can last up to 30 working days, and you might be offered a job at the end. Work trials are voluntary, and your benefits won't be affected if you finish early or turn down a job you're offered. Your Jobcentre Plus can arrange a work trial for you, or you can ask them about how to do this yourself. (4.)

⇒ There are many stages to getting a job, from deciding which jobs to go for, choosing the right places to look, to working on your interview skills. The National Careers Service can help you every step of the way. Job hunting is about showing yourself in the best light. It's also about making the most of your strengths. This is the same whether it's on a CV or in an interview. Whether you're not currently in a job and want to get back to work, or you're looking for your next move, there's advice on their website to help.

Top Tips

- Find out what your total household income and extra expenses will be once you start work.
- Organise childcare if you need it. Find out what is available in your area by contacting your local Family Information Service.
www.familyandchildcaretrust.org
- If you are receiving benefits, contact Jobcentre Plus to tell them the date you are starting work. Make sure you receive any extra payments you are entitled to.
- If deductions were made from your benefits to pay your bills directly, you will need to make new arrangements. The amount of the repayments may go up.
- Find out if you can claim working tax credit, including help with childcare costs. Contact the HMRC Tax Credit Helpline. 0345 300 3900
- Check if you will be entitled to housing benefit and council tax benefit. If you were already receiving either of these benefits, tell your local authority that you are starting work within one month to prevent there being a break in your claim.

Skills, Development and Employment

Education and skills development

If you are thinking about a career change, or want to update your skills, going back into learning is the right move. Many adults return to education for all sorts of reasons and find it a very useful and enjoyable experience. There is a lot of support available, and you might be able to get funding. ^(1.)

Don't worry if you haven't studied for a while. Many people return to learning after a break, and really enjoy the experience. You can study in a variety of different ways now, including at home. The more skills you have, the better your chances of finding the right job and getting more out of life. ^(2.)

⇒ Hampshire Learning offers locally accredited and qualification courses. Their steps into employment includes programmes for those who are seeking employment or for those who are hoping to advance their career or change direction. Programmes of learning can be tailored to suit learners' needs.

- Learning to Learn (Level 1)
- Employability Skills (Level 1)
- Making Progress (Entry Level)
- Working Together (Level 1)
- ICT (Entry and Level 1)

For more information on the courses provided by Hampshire Learning visit: www.hants.gov.uk/hampshire-learning/hl-providers/ncfe-accreditation. You can also view a list of all the locally accredited units in alphabetical order. If you don't see a unit which meets your needs they can work with you to get your courses accredited.

⇒ Communication, maths and computer skills are some of the essential skills needed. Courses in all these areas are available from beginners' levels upwards, so there will be a course that suits your current skill level. You can take a free English and maths qualification if you:

- are over 16
- have left compulsory full-time education
- have English and Maths skills below level 2 (GCSE) standard

For more information and to find courses in your area visit the courses and learning section of the National Careers Service website www.nationalcareersservice.direct.gov.uk or call the helpline. 0800 0968 336.

⇒ Many local libraries run courses and workshops from CV writing to computers for beginners. Find out what's available at your local library by visiting www.hants.gov.uk/learning-in-libraries.htm.

⇒ A CV is your chance to show an employer that you've got the skills and experience that they need. National Careers Service's CV Builder helps you create a CV in bite size chunks and provides advice on application forms, covering letters and interviews. Alongside this, you can complete a Skills Health Check report that will help you decide what kind of job would suit you. It can also show you which skills you might want to brush up on. All of these fantastic tools can be found in the 'Careers Tools' section of the National Careers Service website. nationalcareersservice.direct.gov.uk. ^(3.)

Top Tips

- Make sure you have an up-to-date CV, with information on your skills, abilities and experience.
- Get yourself online – many companies now advertise their vacancies on the internet, so make this a key part of your job search.
- If you've been out of work for a long time, explain the reasons why to employers. If you have brought up a family, felt unwell, or simply been unlucky in the jobs market, explain your absence in a few sentences
- Consider temporary work. This is often a very good way of getting a foot in the door and securing a permanent post later on, as well as building on your skills and experience.
- Doing voluntary work can be personally rewarding and also provides the chance to learn new skills and improve on existing ones.
- Keep focused. Don't give up. Job hunting can take time and persistence.
- Take all the help you can get. There's a lot of support out there for the unemployed and most of it is FREE.

Skills, Development and Employment

Building confidence and self esteem

Our levels of self-confidence can go up and down, depending on what's happened recently in our lives. So it's normal for your confidence to take a dip from time to time. However, your level of self-confidence can have a real impact on how well you make use of the opportunities that come your way. ^(1.)

Do you feel less confident in some situations? If you can, try to identify when and why you feel less confident - at work, when studying, speaking to people? Has this always been the case, or was there a time in your life when you felt more confident? It may be that you have lost confidence for a reason, such as being made redundant, or a personal situation. Don't worry: you can take steps to improve your confidence. ^(2.)

⇒ Taking positive action is a good way to improve your confidence. Taking steps in a new direction will make you feel more in charge of your life and your future. It is also a good way to get to know yourself better. The National Career Service provide information on how you can improve your confidence. Visit www.nationalcareersservice.direct.gov.uk/advice/courses/typesoflearning/Pages/feelconfident.aspx. ^(3.)

⇒ Hampshire Adult Learning provides the following confidence building courses:
Personal Development: Programmes which support individuals in developing confidence, knowledge and skills to become more effective in their everyday lives. Programmes of learning can be tailored to suit learners' needs.

- Assertiveness Skills (Entry Level)
- Confidence Building (Entry level)
- Personal Development (Entry Level)
- Developing Confidence (Level 1)
- Managing Life Changes (Level 2)
- Professional Effectiveness (Level 3)

⇒ If you are worried your child's lack of confidence or low self-esteem is affecting their day to day life, relationships or ability to learn and develop, it is worth seeking professional help. Young Minds provides information on how you can help improve your child's self-esteem. Read the 'worried about your child?' section under the parent tab at www.youngminds.org.uk. You can also search self esteem on the Family Lives website www.familylives.org.uk and read the information on 'Helping your child build self esteem.' ^(4.)

Top Tips

- Be true to yourself. Live your life doing what feels right to you, not someone else.
- Give credit where credit is due. If you've done something really good, and people compliment you on it, accept the compliments with thanks!
- Try something new. When you break out of your comfort zone and try something new, not only do you challenge yourself, but you expand your confidence in your own abilities.
- Keep a positive crowd. The people you hang out with can either drag you down or lift you up.
- Wash yourself in positive memories. It's a common habit to let previous failures and bad experiences wash through your mind before you do something important. Replace that habit by actively letting positive memories, accomplishments and experiences wash through your mind for a minute or two instead.
- Do something you're good at! Regularly doing things that you are good at reinforces your belief in your abilities and strengths.

Volunteering

Volunteering or work experience gives you the chance to learn new skills and improve those you already have. You will be helping others at the same time and helping yourself build a better future. Many people have moved into new types of work on the back of the volunteering they've done - and you can join them. ^(1.)

Choose carefully the organisation or group you wish to help. Make sure it does something you feel is important, something you feel passionately about. Make sure that the experience will improve your own chances of getting back into paid work. Volunteering is a win-win situation – you carry out a useful task and learn new skills at the same time.

- ⇒ If you're unemployed and looking for work, you can volunteer with a local organisation through the Work Together programme. Your Jobcentre Plus adviser will help you to find a volunteering opportunity. See your local Jobcentre Plus for more information on the Work Together programme. ^(2.)
- ⇒ The website www.do-it.org.uk enables you to search for a variety of different volunteering opportunities. If you know what you want to do you can search by your area of interest. If not, you can search for opportunities using your postcode to find what is available in your local area. If you need any support in volunteering contact the New Forest Volunteer Centre at Community First New Forest:
Sarah Suddrey - Volunteer Centre Co-ordinator
Community First New Forest
Archstone House, Pullman Business Park,
Pullman Way, Ringwood, BH24 1HD
Tel. 01425 482773, Fax : 01425 482666
Email: vol.bureau@cfnf.org.uk
www.cfnf.org.uk
- ⇒ Volunteering while on benefits: you are free to volunteer while you are receiving benefits. This is as long as the work you do is unpaid and you meet the rules of your benefit. Always check with your personal adviser before you start volunteering. Volunteering shouldn't affect your right to benefits, as long as the only money you receive is to cover your volunteering expenses, such as travel. There are no limits on the amount of time you can volunteer for, as long as you continue to meet the conditions of the benefit or tax credit you are receiving. For example, if you receive Jobseekers Allowance you must
- still be actively seeking a full-time job.
 - able to attend job interviews at 48 hours' notice.
 - be available to work at one week's notice. ^(3.)

Top Tips

- Think about what you want from volunteering – new skills, fun, a chance to contribute to a cause?
- Think about what you have to offer – enthusiasm, work skills, life skills.
- Work out roughly how much time you have to give, and how many times a week or month.
- Browse! The best way to find out what's available is to do some searches on the do-it website (www.do-it.org.uk). Use the quick search or try the advanced search.
- Access support, information and advice from you local volunteer centre.
- Remember that everyone can volunteer – whatever your skills, experience or background, you should be able to find an opportunity.
- Ask questions – don't be shy about asking questions as you go through the process of applying for an opportunity.
- Just try it – often the most difficult part of volunteering is making the first move, so be brave!

Benefits for families

There are several different benefits for families to help with the extra costs of children. These include benefits for women who are pregnant or who have just had their baby, benefits for the partners of women who have given birth, benefits for people who adopt, and benefits, tax credits and other help which you may be able to get when you have responsibility for a child or young person. ^(1.)

The benefits system provides practical help and financial support if you are unemployed and looking for work. It also provides you with additional income when your earnings are low, if you are bringing up children, are retired, care for someone, are ill or have a disability. But with so many different types of benefits and the constant number of changes being made, how can you make sure you're receiving what you're entitled to?

- ⇒ Take 5 minutes to calculate what benefits you're entitled to, using the benefits calculator at www.moneysavingexpert.com.
- ⇒ The Department for Work and Pensions has produced an online guide which can help you check if you qualify for certain benefits. It can also give you an estimate of how much you may be able to get. It covers the main benefits including: Attendance Allowance, Carer's Allowance, Child Benefit, Child Tax Credit, Disability Living Allowance, Housing Benefit, Income Support and Jobseeker's Allowance. To see the online guide, visit www.gov.uk. ^(2.)
- ⇒ If you are on a low income, you may be able to get other help with the costs of bringing up your children. For example, your children may be entitled to free school meals or help with the costs of school uniform. If you are pregnant or you have young children, you may be able to get vouchers to help with the costs of milk, fruit or vegetables. Top Tips

- If you inform one department of a change in your circumstances do not assume that they will pass on this information to any other department. You must inform all the offices you get benefits from.
- Make sure you read and understand all the letters you receive from any benefits office.
- When you phone a benefits office, the HMRC, or the Council, always write down the name of person you spoke to, the date, the time, and what was agreed in case the problem is not sorted out straight away.
- Get a receipt when you hand in forms or evidence and keep it safe. If you are asked for the same information again you will be able to prove that you have already supplied it.
- If you do receive a letter asking for information you have already supplied, don't assume that the benefits office will realise their mistake and continue processing your claim. You must respond, if only to show them your receipt, otherwise they may close your claim.

Top Tips

- Set a budget. One effective way to manage money is to set a budget and stick to it.
- Reduce your outgoings. Look at reducing your outgoings. You may find that there are some luxuries that you don't need.
- Get online to increase your earnings. Many people are making extra cash by using online auction or selling sites to sell unwanted goods.
- Check benefit entitlements. Check whether you are entitled to any benefits. Many people aren't aware of their entitlements.
- Settle your priority debts first. There are some types of debt that could cause serious consequences if left unpaid.
- Avoid taking out any more credit. Avoid taking out any more credit until you have substantially reduced your existing debts.
- Seek professional advice. If you're struggling to keep up with debt repayments, you should seek professional advice.

Home finances

Whether and when it makes sense to use a financial adviser depends on how complicated your finances are and what type of product you're looking for. If you're just looking for a basic savings product you don't need advice. If it's something more complicated like a pension or investments, you might need help. If you're unsure, ask for help. ^(1.)

Helping you to take control of your money, make ends meet and make better financial decisions.

⇒ Budgeting

The problem with most budgets is they don't work! They look at a typical month's spending, yet we don't spend by the month - what about the daily coffee, weekly shop, annual holiday? ^(2.)

Money Saving Expert's unique budgeting guide includes sophisticated free budget planner tools, which analyse your finances and then help you manage and control your cash. The guide includes reasons to budget, results of budgeting, how to budget and tips on sticking to your budget. www.moneysavingexpert.com/banking/Budget-planning.

The money advice service provides a free online budget planner you can use to work out how much money you have coming in and what you're spending it on. This includes a detailed spending break down that helps you work out where your money goes each month and helps you to see how much spending money you have after you've paid your most important bills. ^(2.)

⇒ The Money Advice Service's Tool & Resources section also provides action plans that enable you to take control of your finances get motivated to tackle life's money matters.

Action Plan topics include:

- Homes and mortgages
- Insurance
- Savings and investments
- Pensions
- Losing your job
- Having a baby
- Managing your money
- Managing on a low income
- Managing your bank account

Top Tips

- Look at ways to cut costs. Are there luxuries that you don't need. This isn't to say that you shouldn't enjoy treats, but you might be surprised at how much small things, like a daily coffee when out, add up.
- Shop smartly. You don't need that 3 for the price of 2 if you were only going to buy 1.
- Use price comparison sites when buying car insurance. This will help you to get the best deal possible, while still getting the level of insurance cover that you need.
- Car sharing - if you commute by car, consider sharing your journey and the cost with others on the same route.
- Comparison sites are a great way to save money on all your supermarket shopping too. You can compare the price of your weekly shop across many of the big stores and see when your favourites are on offer.
